“Since LifeNet trainings, everything has changed: our compassion toward patients, our environment, our signage and, above all, we are proud we now have our mission statement which we can say by heart and live by when it comes to work. We have now started yielding the fruits of these trainings because our patient numbers are now increasing.”

-Dita Ndecha, In-Charge, Kanyama Health Centre, Malawi

LIFENET NEWS

- LifeNet was awarded a Transition to Scale Grant from Grand Challenges Canada. This grant will invest in the organization's work in Burundi and DRC.

- LifeNet hosted a Leadership Summit in Malawi, bringing together LifeNet country directors and other field leaders along with David Scheiman, LifeNet VP of Programs. These leaders (picture to the right) shared growth strategies, discussed projects, planned for the future, and solved challenges together.

FACES OF LIFENET

Espérant Dikasa Kasongo has a degree in economics and serves as a LifeNet Management Trainer in DR Congo. He trains partner health facilities in financial and pharmaceutical management as well as human resource best practices. Outside of work, Espérant enjoys listening to the radio, watching movies, reading books about management, and coaching a friend in learning French.

“In the Bible, it says, ‘My people perish for lack of knowledge.’ LifeNet brings knowledge to the health system in the DRC through its training programs.”
